PENNSTLVANIA RAILROAD.

Great improvements have been made during the past few months in the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad between New York and Washington. Many curves have been straightened and the line thus materially shortened; one-hundred-pound steel rails neve been laid between Philadelphia and Washington and the roadbed made equal to any on the Pennsylvania Railroad System. These improvements together with the superior terminal facilities at New York, the fast time and the matchless morning and afternoon Limiteds, make the Pennsylvania Railroad the popular line between New York, Philadelphia, Reltimore and Washington, for it is the smoothest file safest and the most perfect is the smoothest file safest and the most perfect is the smoothest file safest and the most perfect to the mount of the Elbe, index, No. 12.—The steamer German came into collision with and sonk the British steamer of the Metropolia and Capital of tailroad connecting the Metropolia and Capital of the Metropolia and Capital of tailroad connecting the Metropolia and Capital of tailroad connecting the Met

The American fishing side by side on the Barks. The American fisherman sells like fire of duty of course, in the United States. The Canadian fisherman, on the other hand, has to pay a duty on his fish going to the United States, and when, in addition, he is usked in the toeth of the treaty of 1818, to give his rival, thus favored by circumstance, all the easements and conveniences involved in the commercial privileges obtainable in Canadian ports, he feels that he is being asked to assist that fival in compassing his further miner. This, I suppose, is only matural. It is only matural, too, that the canadians should expect free fish as in times past, in return for the currently seems thus?

past, in return for the conservant of ments.

The present Canaddan Covernment seems most auxinus to have this question settled, it would familierly prefer a friendly adjustment, commercial privileges in Canadian ports being exchanged for the free admission of Canadian fish into the United States. If this is not done d am not making a threat, but mercly stating the bure truth, there is no alternative before it but to enforce the treaty. The matter is one of no particular importance to the United States the fishing industry of New-England being now relatively of no great account; and every friend of peace and amity between the two countries must carnestly hope that a way out of the difficulty may be found along the lines suggested
